

Last time around, 54 years of suppressed demand crashed upon the shores of the world markets. The man who saw the wave coming urged you take advantage and book 584% gains in the process.

Now those same forces are rebuilding momentum...

CATCHING THE GOLDEN TSUNAMI...AGAIN! ARE YOU POSITIONED TO RIDE A 393% WAVE OF PROFITS?

Dear Investor,

{Editor's name} here, editor of {Newsletter name}. I'm compelled to write to you today as a warning. There's an incoming surge very few are prepared for. I want you equipped to take advantage of the coming opportunity in precious metals.

Demographic forces are set to unleash another buying frenzy. The last time around, you may have missed out. The past is gone, but I urge you not to make that mistake twice. Please, prepare yourself!

The choice is yours...ride the wave to enormous profits. Or get pulled in by the undertow with the rest of the herd.

In this special report, I review the powerful forces at work in the gold market. They strengthen each day. It's obvious to anyone paying attention.

But many will be blindsided and face the consequences of inaction.

This report also reveals the investments you need to avoid at all costs. They are likely victims no matter what happens in the market or the economy.

You see, not all mining companies are in a favorable position right now. When the price of gold increases dramatically, as I predict it will, these companies could see large DECLINES in their stock prices.

But I'm getting ahead of myself...

The price of gold will soar thanks to these powerful forces

It's no surprise that China's growth over the last ten years was nothing short of extraordinary. Hundreds of millions of people lifted themselves out of poverty. China now has the second most billionaires in the world, behind the U.S.

Over the next three years, China's middle class will grow from 300 million to 500 million!

As its economy matures, expect unprecedented levels of consumption among the middle class. The sheer number of people in the economy is mindboggling.

In short, wealth is exploding. Three years from now, a population over five times the size of California will have disposable income they've never had before.

But I'm here to warn you about how this demographic will impact the gold market. Why gold?

In a recent survey of the Chinese middle-class, a full 25% said they intend on buying gold in the form of bullion or 24K jewelry in the next 12 months.

So by 2017, over 125 million people in China alone will make regular gold purchases!

The New Gold Market

You can't talk about the gold market any more without looking at China. Not only is it now the world's largest producer AND largest consumer of gold, but it is also the world's largest importer.

Think about it this way...

The demand for physical bullion is so strong that it mines more than every country on Earth, but that isn't enough. It also imports more gold than every other country just to keep up with domestic demand!

I thought the people camped outside Apple for the new iPhone were fanatical. They got nothing on a Chinese gold bug!

Since the demand for gold will increase for at least the next three years, I can show you how to take advantage of this amazing opportunity.

Gold kicked off its last bull market in 2000. But it really picked up steam in 2004. What happened?

As early as 2000, China developed exchanges for institutional traders and large banks. But the writing was on the wall. Individuals wanted to legally buy gold, too.

By 2004 the ban on domestic gold purchases ended, with it the 54-year prohibition of bullion ownership. A flood of new buyers, with recently acquired wealth, started buying the yellow metal in droves. Demand soared.

Between 2004 and 2013 investment in gold bullion surged from 10 tons to nearly 400 tons per year. China now accounts for 23% of global gold purchases. There is no sign of a slowing trend. By 2017, annual purchases are projected to hit 500 tons.

So what does that mean for your investment portfolio? Let me show what happened the last time this opportunity came along...and how we profited along the way.
